Hear the stories of three women who have empowered themselves to protect against unforeseen events, while helping others protect their health with Juice Plus+.

Our family loves this brilliant concept because it's pure and safe whole-food based micronutrition, well documented to benefit all ages. I love that our Juice Plus+ income is a direct reflection of how many families we've helped get truly healthier. I couldn't always say that about my job in healthcare before this.

- Candace Corson, M.D. /and Grandmom on a public health mission

Juice Plus+ has given me my health back and the business has offered more time & financial freedom alongside the priceless emotional revenue of helping others.

~Andrea Mather-Stow, Musician

It is important for women to develop healthy lifestyle strategies to address their physical, emotional and financial wellness for themselves and their family. We now know all three are closely connected to our overall health, wellness, longevity and vitality we need to live a happy life. I am proud to say the Juice Plus+ Company supports physical wellness with nutrition and financial wellness with a Plan B as the solution they are looking for.
